Like the Wiretapping Swindlers, They Had Dummy Telephones on Which a Woman Pretended to Call Up Eminent Bankers in a Loud Voice the Wemen Customers.

That the spurious "brokerage" concern of J. H. Mansfield & Co., 44 Broadway, removed $100,000 in cash from the State on Monday is the allegation made by H. M. Farle, attorney for several creditors on whose behalf he filed yesterday a petition in bankruptcy against the corporation. None of the members of J. H. Mansfield

Co. appeared yesterday on the scene of their former labors. Several customers, including a few women, came around, but of course couldn't get in. A number of them went to R. R. Billington, a lawyer in the same building. Mr. Billington says that he now has about seventeen complaints against the corporation.

One man from upstate who lost $8,000 went to District Attorney Jerome, according went to District Attorney Jerome, according to Mr. Billington. A civil suit will be brought against the concern if any of its members can be located.

J. H. Mansfield formerly ran a bucketshop in Rockland, Mass., in connection with a tipster named Frank C. Ball. They were associated with one George T. Sullivan, who failed for a large sum in Chicago several years ago. After failing in Rockland Mansfield came to this city and started first a tipster business and about six months ago the brokerage concern. brokerage concern.

There was a large number of telephones in Mansfield's office, but, like the wiretappers' telephones, they didn't connect with anything. Mrs. M. M. Folliett, the manager of the women's department, had a habit of calling up in a loud voice the office of well known banking houses and professing to converse with them. One of Mrs. Folliett's advertisements reads as follows:

LADIES—Splendid accommodations for lady traders; private telephone and telegraph exchange, tickers, unrivaled brokerage, and all information letters.

Mrs. M. M. FOLLIETT,

MURCHANTS' TRUST CO. ASSET. Lease of Grand Circle Branch Sold After a Three Cornered Tangle.

The sale on Wednesday of the unexpired term of a lease of the premises 300 to 304 West Fifty-ninth street closed a legal tangle in which Douglas Robinson, as joint receiver with the New York Security and rust Company of the Merchants' Trust ompany, the Greenwich Bank, and Cassius Wicker, as president of the Bankers' lealty and Security Company, were avolved.

From papers submitted at Albany to Court Justice Hasbrouck, who ordered the sale of the lease by auction, it appears that Mr. Robinson, by reason of his connection with the real estate business, took charge of the disposal of the lease, which was for the premises formerly occupied by the Grand Circle branch of the Merchants' Trust Company.

While the receivership was still temporary Mr. Wicker, who was a director of he Merchants' Trust Company, notified Mr. Robinson, on behalf of the Bankers' Realty Company, that he was prepared to make an offer for the lease. According to Mr.

an offer for the lease. According to Mr. Wicker, Mr. Robinson's reply was that the lease was considered a very valuable asset, but that nothing could be done until the receivership was made permanent.

Subsequently, Mr. Wicker alleged, he received a letter from Mr. Robinson saying that the lease had been disposed of to a third party. Mr. Wicker learned later that the purchaser was the Greenwich Bank and the price $6,100. As Mr. Wicker had intimated that he was prepared to pay more, he protested and appealed to Edward Lauterbach, as counsel for the receivers. Mr. Lauterbach advised that the court be asked for instructions, and the whole matter was laid before Justice Hasbrouck.

mo intention either to favor the Greenwich Bank or to exclude Mr. Wicker. Justice Hasbrouck cut the knot very short by an order for the immediate sale of the lease

The sale was held at 14 Vesey street on Wednesday afternoon, and there were only two bids. Mr. Wicker's bid of $6,200 on behalf of his company was accepted. The other bid was for $6,100, but the bidder did not disclose for whom he was acting.

FICTION ON THE CURB.

Anonymous Growl About Suppressed Quotations of Unnamed Stock.

The curb was agitated yesterday by something besides the new police regulations and the added dignity which the outside traders have taken unto themselves. Some one who signed himself "Investi ator" scattered broadcast copies of a circular attacking the disinterestedness of the publisher of the reports of sales on the curb, which brokers and newspapers subscribe to. The circular was headed "Graft on the Curb" and declares that the quotations of a certain stock (not named) have been suppressed.

Frank Bennett of the Bennett Press, publishers of the "Reports of Sales," said in answer to the circular that transactions reported to be fictitious, in various stocks, have been discriminated against and have the property simply. have been discriminated against and nave not been included in the reports simply because of a desire to protect the market.

Just what stock was referred to in the anonymous circular couldn't be learned, although some brokers thought the author of the circular had Montreal and Boston in mind, and others were quite sure it was American Nickel. Officers of the latter converse said they didn't see how it could company said they didn't see how it could refer to them.

Front of His Church. The Rev. Father McCarren, rector the Church of Sts. Simon and Jude, in Avenue T. Flatbush, has succeeded in stopping the erection of telephone poles and the stringing of wires in front of the church stringing of wires in front of the onuron property. Deputy Commissioner Farrell of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity yesterday notified the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company to stop all work and remove the poles irready erected, unless the permission of the owners of the property could be obtained. Father McCarren refused to give such remission.

National Lead Capital $50,000,000.

An amended certificate increasing the authorized capital stock of the National Lead Company from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 was filed yesterday at Trenton, N. J. The critificate shows that there have been issued 149,044 shares of common and 149,040 shares of preferred stock, of which 109,126 common and 106,649 preferred voted for the stock increase which adds 100,000 shares to each class of stock as originally authorized. The increase was understood to be preparatory to the purchase of the United Lead Company.

Stock Transfer Tax for July Only $305,790. York city brokers overstocked themselves with stamps in June, for during the month of July the State receipts under the stock transfer tax law amounted to only $308,790, a decrease as compared with the receipts for July of $131,509. This decrease is also explained by the fact that July is a dull month on the Stock Exchange.

GOSSIP OF WALL STREET.

years," says a New England capitalist, "and I have been a bull on American securities year after year. I have sometimes made the mistake of buying securities at higher prices than I could get them for a little later but even investments that looked very bad for a while turned out well in the long run, and all the money I have made in the past ten years has been money made on the bull side of the market. I never yet knew a bear on American stocks to make much money in the long run. I am a bull on stocks now. Ten years ago, when I began to make investments in stocks, the pig iron production of this country was less than 7,000,000 ons. It had run up from about 4,000,000 tons in 1884. Last year our pig iron produc-tion was 18,500,000 tons, and this year it will be 19,000,000 tons. For the first six months of the year the production was 11,000,000 tons. Jay Gould used to say that pig iron was the barometer of trade. Do you know that the pig iron output on which the Steel Corporation was formed was less than 14,-000,000 tons? That was five years ago. The Steel Corporation is now in its fifth year and the pig iron output has increased 36 per cent. The growth of the copper trade s just as remarkable The copper output of this country the year the Amalgamated Copper Gompany was floated was 568,000,000 pounds. Last year our mines turned out 772,000,000 pounds of copper, an increase of 86 per cent. in five years. In the past ten years the increase in our copper production has averaged 8.2 per cent. a year. The copper and steel trades were never in such prosperous condition as at this moment. Ten years from now the present figures of production in pig iron and copper will look very small."

The Hawley stocks are being marked up. The trading in Southern Railway recalls the day several years ago when almost the entire capital stock of the company traded in. Every important house in the and nobody seemed to know what all the excitement was about. Never before in the history of the Street had there been such an outburst of speculation in a stock. It was almost forgotten within a few days, and no satisfactory explanation of the cause of the spasm was ever made.

The speculative interest in Union Pacific has dwindled to insignificant proportions. The greater part of the trading in it yesterday was by room traders, and the total amount of the transactions in the stock for the day was ess than has been seen repeatedly in active markets in a half hour. Professional opera-tors have tried to bull it and they have tried to bear it. They have had no success in either direction. One speculative clique took hold of it recently and tried to get it out of the rut. Nearly 100,000 shares of the stock were accunulated. This buying naturally advanced the price, but the moment the buying ceased all the life went out of the stock. The bull clique did not like the way the stock took its timulant, and so it dumped its line on the market. This heavy selling broke the price a little, but no more than the buying had advanced it. When the selling was over the stock gradually recovered its loss. The clique which tried to bull it was more imed by its resistance to selling pressure than by its failure to respond to the bullish demonstration. Those who have attempted to make a market in Union Pacific independent of the leading owners of the stock have dis-covered that the initiative for a real bull campaign in Union Pacific must come from the people who have the most at stake in this

The closing bid and asked prices on Lackawanna yesterday were 420-440.

The directors of the Pitteburg Coal Cor pany, in explanation of the passing of the dividend on the preferred stock, say: "Business suffered considerably in the earlier months from unprecedented competition, and we deemed it advisable not to draw on surplus for dividends, but to build up working capital." The directors of the company must have known all this in May when they attempted to make a market for their shares some $25 higher than anybody seems willing to pay for them now.

Most of the interesting financial news these days comes down from Saratoga over private wires. The most remarkable tale the Street has had since the opening of the Saratoga season was told yesterday. To account for the big rise in Lackawanna it was stated was laid before Justice Hasbrouck.

Mr. Robinson's counsel declared that there had been a misunderstanding concerning had been a misund give three shares of new 8 per exchange for each present share of 10 per cent. stock. No explanation was given of the relation between the purchase of the Reading and the "melon cutting."

Steel preferred sells ex dividend on Monday. Speculation in wheat is at a low ebb. The "croppers" are scurrying about over the Northwest making minute examination of rusted wheat, but they appear to be in great perplexity as to the damage the rust is doing It was a year ago this week that the grain markets became wildly excited over the spread of rust over South Dakota and Minnesota. September wheat in Chicago advanced from 90 cents to 99 cents a bushel in four days. The stock market took little notice of the scare. While wheat was advancing St. Paul and Union Pacific advanced about a point. St. Paul then was selling below 150 and Union below par. Wheat never stopped going up. Attempts to stem the feverish speculation were useless. One crowd got out and another took up the bull campaign, and September wheat advanced nearly 20 cents more. When the first reports of rust were received the other day the grain trade thought we were to have a repetition of last season's rust scare, and there was a violent advance in wheat of eight cents a bushel. But all the fire is out of the wheat market now. This year's rust does not seem to act like last year's.

"The man with the supporting order must have stubbed his toe," said a broker when one of the active stocks broke through an even figure without a sale.

The bull campaign in Reading is under way again.

The floating supply of some of the standard railway stocks is so small that any concerted effort to mark them up might result in as-tounding quotations. St. Paul is one of market in this stock, which was these. The market in this stock, which was at one time the speculative leader, was never so narrow as at present. The Rockefeller holdings of St. Paul are very large, and they are not coming on the market at this level. The stock, which used to be a speculative barometer, as Union Pacific now is, has practically disappeared from the Street. Louistically disappeared from the Street. Louis-ville and Nashville, which Mr. Gates bought control of in the open market three years ago, is also disappearing from the Street.
It is becoming a purely investment stock.
Manhattan Elevated, which used to be a speculative football, has gone out of the Street altogether. There are some people who say that Union Pacific will never again take so prominent a place in speculation as it did last winter. These people say that the four years will be in the low priced stocks.

DR. NELDEN TURNS UP AGAIN. "I have been a bull on this country for ten "Beauty Doctor" Incorporates

Emergency Hospital in This City. ALBANY, Aug. 8 .- Dr. Andrew L. Nelden, the whilom "beauty doctor," evidently believes that the memory of the public is dulled in these days of swiftly pensing events. He turned up to-day as an incorporator of St. Gregory's Free Emerevents. He turned up to-day as an incorporator of St. Gregory's Free Emergency Accident Hospital and Ambulance Station, to be located in New York city, for the treatment of accident and emergency cases. The State Board of Charities has been asked to approve the establishment of this new institution. Associated with Dr. Nelden as incorporators are M. J. Sullivan, C. H. Duncan and A. G. Koelble of New York city and J. Maxwell Moyer of Ocean Grove, N. J.

Dr. Nelden operated what he called an institute on Gold street, New York city, and advertised not only to make pretty women beautiful, but homely ones as well. He said he could alter faces, remove wrinkles and take out anything from a double chin to a lap ear. The main essential at the beginning of treatment was the fee, an this forthcoming he would say that there would be no trouble about his being able to accomplish the rest. His dupes were many, including actresses in well known companies. He got into trouble through Mrs. Josephine Ware of Denver, who paid him $200 to remove her wrinkles. He not only removed the wrinkles but part of her face, and now her pride prevents her from moving about except in the dark. According to her story many of his victims have had their faces badly burned by the lotions that Dr. Nelden has applied.

Soon after these were locked up the bondsmen appeared, but they were all turned down with the exception of Joe Schliefstein, who was allowed to bail out the prisoners taken in one house. While he was doing so the other professional bondsmen held an indignation meeting across the street from the police station and declared they would take steps to find out why discrimination was shown. Schliefstein has often bragged in the police station, it is said, that he was a person of considerable political influence because of an alleged relationship to Attorney-General alleged relationship to Attorney-General Mayer and Congressman Goldfogle.

that bids fair to outstrip production. Prices have steadily advanced during the past 12 months from 12c per pound to the present price of 151/4c, with ndications pointing to still higher quotations.

This means largely increased profits to copper producers, and furnishes a logical cause for the recent activity in leading copper stocks, which are steadily rising. I have recently made a diligent research into the standing of GREENE CONSOLIDATED COPPER with the most satisfactory results. I find that from the investor's standpoint Greene possesses the elements of permanency, intrinsic value, wise management and a goodly prospect of steady enhancement in market value. Moreover, at existing quotations it returns about 10 per cent. per annum dividends, payable every other month, and annum dividends, payable every other month, and is now earning, and, from all indications, will continue to earn for many years to come, not only te dividend, but a surplus very largely in excess.

HERE ARE THE FACTS: Greene Consolidated, the fourth largest producer of copper, is growing more rapidly than any other copper company in the world. In a comparatively short space of time it will be second only to Amai-The vast extent of the Massey ore body, as yet unknown, but the initial development of which makes it conspicuous as the biggest find in copper history, is in itself sufficient to convince the most skeptical of the permanency of Greene Copper stock as an investment, and the unquestioned capacity of the property as a producer to pay not only 24 per cent. dividends, but more for many years to come. Millions of tons of ore have been not carried on the books as an asset. One of the Few Really Great Mines Present production is at the rate of 6,000,000 sounds per month, on which the company is makone a profit of 5c per pound on a 15c copper market.

DIVIDENDS 24 PER CENT.

Greene Consolidated Copper Company dates rom 1899 and has paid in dividends since and to date $2,812,000. Par value of shares $10. There are 4,700 stock-Dividends 24 per cent. per annum, payable 40

Ores in sight are estimated at 25 million tons, or sufficient to maintain the present concentrating and smelting plants with ore at the rate of 3,000 tons a day (present capacity) for 25 years.

The value of this ore is estimated by P Greene at $3 a ton on a 13-cent copper market If valued as low as $1 a ton the result would be equivalent to a value of $30 a share for Greene

The most conservative estimate places the value of the shares at $45 a share.

Of all the really great mines of the present day, Greene Consolidated Copper has been the most maliciously slandered and abused from innumerable sources, since its inception. most of these lies have been malicious, few have been promulgated out of sheer ignorance, and others emanate from bear cliques, for the purpose of depressing the stock. One by one these falsified reports have been disproved, and the true facts substituted, vindicating the claims made from personal expert investigation, demon strating a reserve of wealth underground almost inconceivable.
